My Dear Mr. Warren:-

I am in receipt of your gracious letter of the 24th inst.
in which you kindly offer
me a brochure on heroic statues of Lincoln. I can assure you I will look forward to receiving it with great thankfulness.

You ask when my statue of Lincoln will be ready for dedication. I am enclosing under separate cover photo showing present state of the statue and I expect to send it to the foundry next week. where they inform me

it will take at least five months for casting after that it will be ready for shipment to Ripon College to be placed near the little white school house where the Republican Party was born.

I do not know whether the acceptance committee will receive it then or prefer to wait until the following commencement.

If you will refer to the back of the photograph you will see what I tried to read into the statue. I also am sending a folder that more definitely outlines the character I want the statue to portray. The statue is nine feet in height and will be cast in bronze. Very truly yours
C. A. Shaler

My dear Mr. Shaler:

Will you please accept my thanks for the picture of the statue which is to be erected at Ripon College and also for the very interesting little brochure containing your address. We are especially glad to have both of these items for our collection.

Several years ago I had the pleasure of speaking at Ripon College and remember very vividly my visit there and am especially pleased to learn that they are to have this excellent study of Lincoln as a youth or young man.

Under separate cover we are sending you a book containing the likenesses of the heroic bronze statues of Lincoln in America and hope you will enjoy having it in your home. Please accept it with our compliments.

Yours very truly,

Dear Mr. Shaler:

We have just seen the newspaper picture of your statue, "The Young Lincoln", which was recently unveiled on the Ripon college campus. Any information which you could send us about this work would be greatly appreciated.

Would it be possible to obtain a glossy print of the statue for our files?

Thanking you in advance for any favor you may show us, I am

My dear Miss Berry:

Replying to your favor of the 12th instant
I am sending under separate cover a photograph of my Lincoln statue recently unveiled at Ripon College, and herewith enclose a brief description of the man Lincoln I have tried to represent.

If I can be of further service to you please do not hesitate to call on me.

Very truly yours,

This statue represents the man Lincoln
as he was at the outset of his public career.
His character formed by his early hardships in the wilderness, partakes of the strength of the oak tempered by the warmth of his human sympathies.
He is leaving that early environment in pursuit of an unknown destiny, untouched as yet by tragedy, betrayal and disillusionment - a man at the noon of his powers which his high resolve has already dedicated to the good of his country and of mankind.

Dear Mr. Shaler:

We are indeed most grateful to you for sending us the very fine glossy print of your statue at Ripon College.

Both the statue and the description of the man Lincoln which it represents have been of great interest to us.

We shall be happy to be of service to you at any time.

Yours very truly,

Secretary

Check For $10,000 Given Ripon College

RIPON, Wis., Nov. 1—Clarence A. Shaler, former Waupun industrialist, has presented Ripon college with a check for $10,000 President Silas Evans announced this week.

Income of the gift will be used for scholarships. The principal will be ear-marked for the college building fund.

This is Mr. Shaler's third gift to Ripon. Last December he donated $25,000. In June, 1936 he presented "Genesis" a striking bronze statue from his own studio.

He is also working on a Lincoln group, a statue especially designed for the Ripon college campus.

Statue by Shaler Given to Ripon; Lincoln Group
to Be Presented Later

Clarence Addison Shaler's recently completed statue Genesis is to be presented to Ripon college, where the sculptor went to school, and is to be unveiled at the commencement in June. Mr. Shaler is also planning a Lincoln group for the Ripon campus, the college announces.

Genesis, which is pictured among Mr. Shaler's works in the book of his statues which he has presented to the Waupun Public library, shows the head, shoulders, and uplifted arm of a primitive American Indian woman emerging from a large rough block of bronze, cast to resemble volcanic rock. It is interpreted as representing the principle of chaos taking form, of man's ideas and ideals breaking through nothing into purpose and life.

It will require two or three years to complete the work on the Lincoln group which Mr. Shaler plans to present to Ripon.

Mr. Shaler, resident of Waupun and California, attended preparatory school and college in Ripon from 1874 to 1880. He has been invited to attend the annual commencement at Ripon in the spring, and to be present at the formal unveiling ceremonies. Mr. Shaler has presented several works of art, some his own, and some the work of noted sculptors, to the city of Waupun and to the Rock River Country club.

Young Studio Visitors Praise Shaler's Work

Friends of Clarence A. Shaler who have watched the development of his artistic career may be interested in the commendation his work was given recently by a class of 50 sixth graders in Pasadena who, with their teacher, were entertained in Mr. Shaler's studio. The letter, which was sent the artist in appreciation of their visit, is signed by Mary Klab, their class editor, and reads as follows:

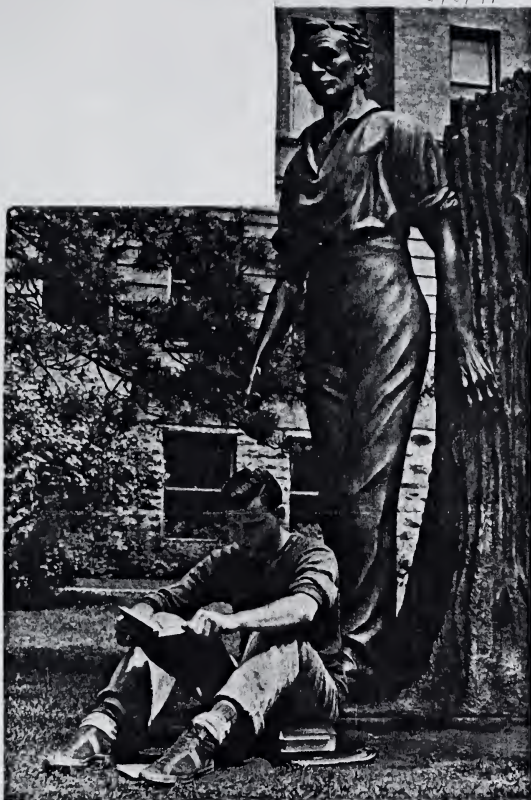

"We the 6-A class in appreciation for the visit to Mr. Shaler's studio, call it our visit to the upper world, and say this about it.

"Yesterday we went to visit a sculptor, yet to me this man was more than a mere sculptor, he was a divine man of God, his high ideals of life were more than human, he was a man whose thoughts did not dwell on worldly things; but of a world far better than this, of things immortal, yet pure and the wishes of God. This visit brought before my eyes the bigger and better things of life, and as I looked at his statues I could see that he was a man of divine hopes; 'The Sculptor of God.'"
